Departments Need More Labor

Agencies are buried in data spread across multiple systems, and critical analysis takes days and gets delayed or deprioritized. Routine monitoring tasks pull focus from strategic work. You need more labor, but there is no budget to hire more officers.

What is an AI Agent?

An AI agent is autonomous software that connects to your databases, reasons through complex tasks, and delivers completed work without constant human oversight. Unlike simple chatbots that only answer questions, agents actually do the work: searching records, analyzing patterns, generating reports, and monitoring systems 24/7.

All Your Data Sources, One Digital Workforce

TRULEO digital agents connect directly to your existing systems: CAD, RMS, BWC, jail calls, OSINT, and more, and perform real work: analytical tasks, monitoring, reporting, and operational processes.

Your TRULEO Agent

One Agent. Every Skill Your Department Needs.

Your TRULEO agent comes fully equipped with the skills to support your entire department, from data management to real-time operations to investigations to command staff strategy. Each task your agent completes replaces the manual work of logging into a system, searching, filtering, reviewing, and exporting, so your people can focus on the work that actually matters. We install everything your team needs to hit the ground running.

What can your agent do:

- Data & Integration:
Move, organize, and manage your department's data automatically, including body-worn camera video, RMS documents, jail call recordings, cell phone dumps, automated license plate reader, and more. Instead of your team logging into multiple systems to search, export, and organize files, your agent handles it as a single task. No more paying egregious vendor API fees or letting vendors hold your data hostage.
- Real-Time Operations:
Keep officers operating with the most accurate, current, and actionable information. Your agent maintains BOLOs and wanted persons lists, pushes intel before and during shifts, and monitors CAD, camera feeds, sensors, and real-time alerts. Every lookup your team used to do manually, like searching databases, filtering records, and reviewing alerts, your agent handles as a task so officers stay focused in the field.
- Crime Analysis & Investigations:
Give your detectives a force multiplier. Your agent handles OSINT research, digital footprint analysis, database research, lead development, case linking, and pattern and network analysis, driving cases forward with greater speed and depth.
- Command Staff:
Support Keep leadership informed, proactive, and ahead of issues. Your agent generates intelligence briefings, reviews and drafts policies, surfaces operational risks, recommends resource allocation, and supports planning, performance management, and strategic initiatives.

What counts as a task:

1 Task = 1 Database Login + any number of lookups a human would otherwise do manually.

A lookup includes things like searching, filtering, reviewing, exporting, drafting, and summarizing. If a human would have to log into a system to do it, that's one task.
